Harvard University

A regular or special full-time graduate student at MIT may enroll to take subjects (exclusive of thesis) at Harvard (except Harvard Extension School and Harvard Summer School) without paying additional tuition, provided that this enrollment does not exceed one-half of the student's total registration for the term. This cooperative arrangement is not applicable to the summer session or, except in limited circumstances, during IAP.

Requests for cross-registration must be approved by the student's MIT department of registration and should generally be confined to subjects that are not offered at MIT. Students will not be allowed to attend classes in which additional registrants put an undue load on the instructors. The procedures for cross-registration (https://registrar.mit.edu/registration-academics/registration-information/cross-registration/harvard) are available on the Registrar's Office website. Grades earned in Harvard subjects appear on MIT transcripts as the closest equivalent MIT grade.

Wellesley-MIT Exchange

Graduate students are eligible to participate in the Wellesley-MIT Exchange Program. Wellesley courses are not considered graduate-level subjects, but may be accepted for graduate credit toward a student's degree with the approval of the department. For details, see the exchange program description (http://catalog.mit.edu/mit/undergraduate-education/academic-research-options/other-universities/#crossregistrationtext) in the section on Undergraduate Education (http://catalog.mit.edu/mit/undergraduate-education).

Boston University

An arrangement for cross-registration has been made between the MIT departments of Economics and Political Science and the African Studies Program of Boston University. Details of the procedures to be followed are similar to those for Harvard-MIT cross-registration.

Brandeis University

A cooperative arrangement exists between the MIT Department of Urban Studies and Planning and the Florence Heller Graduate School for Advanced Studies in Social Welfare at Brandeis University. Cross-registration is restricted to one or two subjects per term in the areas of social welfare at Brandeis and urban studies at MIT.

Tufts University

A cross-registration agreement exists between MIT and the School of Dental Medicine at Tufts University. The program is restricted to specific graduate subjects at each institution.
